

Hotel

This translation is provided for guidance.
The governing text is the Arabic text.

A hotel is an establishment providing lodging and full accommodation services such as meals, and other services. It is usually a separate building, a part of a building, or a group of buildings together with associated infrastructure. It consists of a lobby with reception, accommodation units, F&B outlets, and other services.

Up to 20% of the total number of accommodation units in the property may have a maximum 10% deviation from the default accommodation unit sizes.

Accommodation unit types:

- Rooms
- Suites

M: Mandatory requirement. The building shall fulfill all mandatory requirements.

After fulfilling all mandatory requirements for the category, the building has to score a certain number of additional points to achieve the designated rating.

In cases when a certain requirement does not apply to the building, points related to that requirement shall be deducted from maximum points for the type of accommodation, but the minimum points to be score shall remain the same.
